Highly Anticipated Toy Story 4 Product Line Up Unveiled

Since the reveal of Thinkway's Disney-Pixar Toy Story 4 product range at London Toy Fair earlier this year, fans from around Australia have been waiting in anticipation for its official reveal down under.

Funtastic (Australia and New Zealand's Official Distributor for the Thinkway Toy Story 4 toys), will unveil the new product range to the retail trade at the upcoming Australian Toy, Hobby & Licensing Fair from March 3-6. The new range includes fan favourites Woody and Buzz Lightyear, with a host of brand-new features that have never been seen before. Using the most advanced voice command technology, the new 12-inch Buzz Lightyear and 16-inch Woody action figures will be voice-activated and can fall-down on command, bringing the film's storytelling from screen to real life. Also revealed for the first time in the new interactive product line is Bonnie's reluctant new toy, Forky; he can walk, talk and dance on cue.

The new feature product line will be available from select retailers across Australia and New Zealand from June 2019, just in time to align with the June 20 release in cinemas.

Meagan Sanders, Vice President and General Manager, Star Wars and Consumer Products Commercialisation at The Walt Disney Company Australia and New Zealand commented: "The new Toy Story 4 toy range combines the magic of our beloved characters and stories with the power of innovation, and we're so excited to see how it captivates audiences in new ways in June 2019, when the much-anticipated epic adventure hits the big screen."
