

The Hot Spot releases the Ultimate Vibrating Panties Guide.

Brisbane, QLD, June 04, 2019

One of Australia's leading online adult toy stores, The Hot Spot, has released the ultimate guide to vibrating panties after hours of research and aggregated consumer data of Australian adult toy shoppers.

With 1 in 4 sales sex toy sales in Australia being a wearable vibrator, such as vibrating panties, this adult toy is becoming a craze. Often given as a gift, or worn on date nights, they can be controlled by remote control, or even smart phone apps.

The Hot Spot Founder and CEO Justin Easty edited and published the findings.

"We get a lot of questions from customers about which vibrating panties are the best, and what is the difference between each style. We wanted to make it easy for consumers to find out about the different styles and options available, so we put it all into one easy guide," said Justin.

The epic research piece includes the top 10 most popular vibrating panties, from every price range.

"Some of our customers have shared their stories with us, so also we included a list of the most popular places and events to wear vibrating panties.

To celebrate the release of the Ultimate Guide, The Hot Spot is giving away an Aixi Remote Control Vibrating Panties set.
