

10,000 Car Parts to Sell Completely Unreserved at Auction

A liquidation of an Auto Wreckers featuring car parts, some more than 50 years old, is going under the hammer next week with over 10,000 parts in a series of auctions where all items will sell and for any price.

A total of 11 online auctions will proceed from Monday next week with all items starting at just $1 from an Auto Wreckers going into liquidation.

"Everything will be sold and it could be sold for any price, as all auctions are completely unreserved" said Mr. Hames, Chief Operations Officer for Lloyds Auctions.

"It is very rare that someone has online access to browse and buy auto parts and as an added bonus cheap shipping Australia wide is also available on every item making it extremely easy for people to buy this auto equipment online," said Mr. Hames

"This is the perfect business opportunity for someone to start or expand their own auto wrecking business or for other auto wrecker companies around the country to source some great bargains and stock up their own business with classic and modern auto parts," he continued.

"The enquiries have been really strong over the last week especially from our classic car enthusiasts and we expect to see bidding activity increase in the days leading up to the auction," he said.

Items on offer include plant & equipment, engines, gearboxes, transmissions, mechanical components, radios and electrics, suspensions, diffs, axels, alternators and more.

Some of the auto brands include Holden, Ford, Chrysler, Mitsubishi, Nissan, Datsun and more and it's not just classic parts but modern car parts also.

Classic car parts include Holden Toranas, Kingswoods and Commodores, Ford Falcons, Escorts, Cortina's and more.

The more modern car part models are Barina, Hiace, Impreza, Swift, Corolla and Camry just to name a few.
