

Plutora Grows 4500% Named Deloitte Fast 50 Rising Star Winner
Rising Star Win Validates Innovative Solution, Customer Orientation & Leadership

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – November 30, 2015 – Plutora, Inc., the leading global provider of enterprise DevOps SaaS solutions, designed to accelerate the end-to-end software delivery journey through transparency and control, has been named as a Rising Star winner at the annual Deloitte Technology Fast 50 award held at the ASX.

Plutora won the Rising Star category with a remarkable 4539 percent revenue growth over the last 3 years. This prestigious award is a true recognition of Plutora's innovate enterprise software, customer orientation and strong leadership.

"We are thrilled to be at the top of such an esteemed list of fast growing companies," said Dalibor Siroky, Executive Director of Plutora. "Being ranked first in the Deloitte TechFast 50 Rising Star is an incredible endorsement of Plutora's success over the past three years. This success is attributed to our brilliant team who put the customer first in everything that they do."

This award follows some of Plutora's broader achievements that include significant office expansions in Mountain View, London and Sydney, global partnerships, recognition by Gartner as a Cool Vendor in IT DevOps and most importantly significant global customer wins.

"Plutora solves a very real problem for enterprises. CIOs and IT Executives are under relentless pressure to deliver faster, more frequently and at lower risk, however existing enterprise delivery process are failing to keep up with business demand. Plutora provides essential transparency and control to accelerate time to market while reducing errors and downtime."

Joshua Tanchel, Deloitte Tech Fast 50 lead partner said: "I am delighted to announce that the 2015 Deloitte TechFast 50 Rising Star winner is Plutora. Each year we are blown away by the quality, capacity and foresight of our Deloitte TechFast 50 award winners. Their ideas, their grasp of what the market wants, and their ability to deliver is simply awesome."
